$10 \times 6 = 60$

$8 \times 7 = 56$

$9 \times 9 = 81$

etc. etc. etc.

Basically, this game is a glorified spreadsheet program. Your goal is to take known variables and combine them with hidden variables to get a rating that is as close to 100 as possible. For example: You create a show. In that show you have to create matches and "angles." Angles are basically the story elements. You pretty much have to just use your imagination. Seriously, all angles actually do is tell the program to compare the stats of two or more workers. In it's simplest form, (wrestler A) * (wrestler b) * (product, or fan expectations) = final rating. Now in reality, there are actually hundreds of variables to consider, but that's pretty much it.

The storylines are whatever you say they are. You can do this because you are role playing. You can type whatever you want into the story field and it makes no difference at all. You can even leave it empty. Seriously, all I could think of while trying to create a story was that episode of Family Guy where Peter lets Stewie play with his sock.

So to recap: I paid $20 for a spreadsheet/calculator program where 90% of the gameplay is your imagination. I felt like I was playing D&D by myself.

Damnit, WWE! Just give us back GM mode!

And YES, I do know how to play the game. I spent several hours on Youtube watching tutorials.. Quite hard to master, but this is absolutely a solid game for the future Pro Wrestling Booker!!!. Great game if your into wrestling and managment games.. game was good how ever wish they had past and current wrestling originizations like ecw,wwe ,nwa /wcw ,tna stars. Great game, do not buy through steam, they don't allow you too access the system files and so you can't add content. Much needed. Waste of money here.. How do I download mods with it on steam, just seems complicated. Great Game that all Wrestling fans should play. I only wish Valve would put later version of the game on steam as it would be great to play an updated version.

One of the best wrestling games i have ever played. over 100 hrs on record.... Great Game that all Wrestling fans should play. I only wish Valve would put later version of the game on steam as it would be great to play an updated version.. Very fun to play, you can customize everything!! Great game if you have ever wanted to run a wrestling promotion like WWE, NJPW or even ROH, this game is for you, while I'd go for the 2016 version, TEW 2013 still is a great purchase on Steam since you don't need a e-license.. This is a must have for any wrestling fan.. An in depth management simulation of the wrestling world. It takes you completely backstage of all the things that takes place behind the scenes of the real world. You can pretty much take an idea and put it to paper, but you'll soon find that the idea is either not worth it or it simply worked out for you. You have to understand every wrestler you have with a gimmick, their salary, the scheduling (whether you book them in a show too many times or not enough), learn how to build the momentum of a worker or to completely destroy their entire career, you can customize absolutely everything, and you can fall in love with the in depth micro managing side of things. The best part of this game, is that the modding community is mind blowing, from fantasy creations to updated real world mods. Currently, this modding community is somewhat lackluster since TEW16 has been out (which I own), but sadly it isn't on Steam, which it really should be. I go back and forth, as TEW13 has a better design layout in my opinion, but TEW16 is less buggy and has more features that makes a difference between the two.

If you love management games, spending hours upon hours customizing, and love wrestling, this is the game you NEED.. game was good how ever wish they had past and current wrestling originizations like ecw,wwe ,nwa /wcv ,tna stars
